Become a Friend of the Jarman Centre

w: jarmancentre.org.uk

Opportunities for residential stays, both camps and indoor holidays, are central to the Girlguiding programme. The Jarman Centre provides both, together with a range of outdoor activities – locally within our county, so parents don't have to pay for expensive travel. Schools increasingly find the Jarman Centre affordable and within their budgets.

The Jarman Centre is a huge asset to Girlguiding Cambridgeshire East. It takes a lot of looking after by the volunteer management team, who are very grateful for additional support given by the Friends.

Too busy for weekly Girlguiding activities?

Join the Friends today and, with your interest and enthusiasm, we can support the Jarman Centre.

What's in it for me?

- belonging to a friendly community of like-minded people
- knowing that you are supporting our special centre for future generations
- enjoying at least two social events each year with a lunch or dinner

How do I join?

Please complete the form opposite.

The annual subscription is a minimum of £10, which we encourage you to pay by standing order (please complete the mandate overleaf) or make a one-off payment online. We do still accept cheques.

Please consider Gift Aid as this increases the value of your subscription or donation by 25%.

We look forward to welcoming you – send off the form and join us today!

How can I help?

1. House working days, usually twice a term on a week-day:
   - indoors small maintenance jobs can include extra cleaning, de-cobwebbing, tidying cupboards, or removing blu-tak and sticky tape from places they shouldn't be.
   - outside there is always tidying to be done, sweeping and weeding paths, cleaning out the Acco drains, cutting back brambles from the paths, and planting bulbs etc.
2. The Lumberjacks (our outside volunteers) meet once a month at weekends.
3. The Friends often help at Jarman Centre events:
   - the annual family fun day (usually in May) when we open the centre to the general public for the day;
   - each year we apply to run a charity car boot sale on The Severals in Newmarket – help with stewarding is always welcomed;
   - and we occasionally host activity days for districts, divisions and the county, when extra help is also appreciated.
4. New for the Friends: a small amount of fundraising to help the Jarman Centre with projects, or even making things to sell in the shop - cards, jams, small knitted items, etc.

All events are friendly and sociable and not too strenuous! You are very welcome at any of the working days.

All dates are listed on the website at jarmancentre.org.uk/diary and are included in the county's monthly e-newsletter.

If you cannot help in these practical ways, more general support is also welcome – raising the awareness of the Jarman Centre in the county, both within and outside Girlguiding.

Please share this leaflet with friends and colleagues who may be interested too!
