The 50/50 lottery has helped with projects such as permanent benching for both campfire circles, two brick-built barbecues and bulbs planted around the parking bays.

Funding has also provided equipment for our Woodland Skills sessions, which are always very popular.

Girlguiding Cambridgeshire East county is an operating name of The Guide Association Cambridgeshire East. Registered Charity No. 300716.

The Jarman Centre is Girlguiding Cambridgeshire East's own residential centre, with both indoor accommodation and campsites used by members of Girlguiding, Scouts, schools, other youth groups and the local community. It was opened in 1988 and comprises a purpose-built house within a lovely woodland estate of 18.5 acres.

The 50/50 lottery has been running since 2009 and is registered, in accordance with the 2007 regulations, with South Cambridgeshire District Council.

50% of all incoming money is paid out in prizes and 50% is kept to help the Jarman Centre.

The revenue from the lottery is used to support the work that is needed to save, protect and improve our woodland and outside space.

We also want to create more activities within the woodland for our girlguiding members and other users to enjoy.
